

Jake Oakman

Media Relations Director

Indiana Lt. Governor Eric J. Holcomb

---

Jake Oakman is the Media Relations Director for the Office of the Lt. Governor. In this role, he serves as the main point of contact for all media outlets and he is responsible for speech writing and the Lt. Governor's social media presence.

Jake joined state government in 2010 as Deputy Press Secretary to Governor Mitch Daniels and later as Director of Communications and Media Relations for the Indiana Office of Tourism Development. Oakman has also worked for the IU Foundation and the Indianapolis Indians.

Jake grew up in Springfield, Ohio and earned his bachelor's degree in secondary education from Indiana University where he served as student body president his senior year.